

F

AMAN

TRADING COMPANY

Tomato paste is a popular seasoning in the household basket of most people, which is used to add color to food.

Haman brand operates as one of the leading brands in the tomato paste industry.

With several years of experience in this field, Haman has become one of the most reliable paste manufacturers in the market. In this catalog, products, production process and success factors of this brand will be examined.

Haman brand offers a variety of high quality tomato paste product to the market. These products include natural tomato paste, tomato paste used in the food industry, and tomato paste without salt. The production of Haman brand tomato paste begins with the use of fresh and high quality fruit. This brand benefits from its orchards in Iran's temperate regions, and as a result, fresh and tasty fruits are used to produce tomato paste. To maintain the high quality of tomato paste, the production process is based on modern techniques of draining, drying, and pasteurization.

To prevent quality loss in the production process, Haman brand uses steel pipes and tanks to store and process products. Also, the presence of advanced machinery and skilled technical staff helps the Haman brand to produce quality products without any defects.

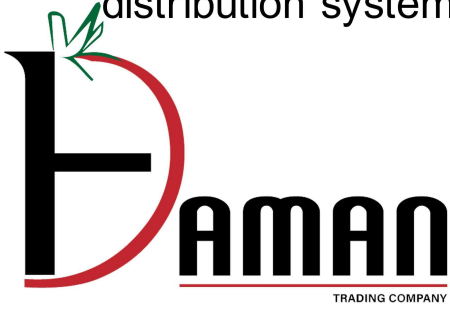

One of the success factors of the Haman brand is the freshness and taste of its products. By using fresh and high quality fruits, Haman brand tomato paste has a special taste that attracts customers. Also, compliance with health and quality standards gives consumers more confidence in purchasing the product.

Other success factors of the Haman brand include the use of modern technology in the production process, providing a wide range of quality products, reasonable prices, and having an effective distribution system and exports to different countries.

Due to the high quality and tasty products of Haman tomato paste, this brand has a strong sales market as well as the respect and trust of consumers. This brand always tries to respond to different needs of customers and offers a wide range of products at reasonable prices.

Having an effective distribution system, the Haman brand helps deliver products to customers quickly and on time.

Also, exporting products to different countries is one of the investments of this brand, which helps to expand the market and increase its income and profit. Also, this brand, with the ability to export to different countries, also affects income generation and job creation in the world.

Haman brand tomato paste as a successful brand with high quality, fresh and tasty products, modern technology and effective distribution system has attracted many audiences inside and outside the country. Considering the economic and nutritional benefits of this product, Hamann brand tomato paste seems to be an excellent choice for any consumer who is looking for a wonderful product.

H AMAN
TRADING COMPANY

09139853624

karimjavanbahkr55@gmail.com

hamanbusiness.com

